

Working with WildHoney

Collaborations Information

Non-verbal Outdoor Street Theatre

WildHoney doesn't use spoken word but relies on movement and visual stimuli as a key technique of storytelling and communication during performances. This makes it accessible and super friendly to all walks of life. Although, when the mood takes us, we do speak Gibberish.

Booking and New Commissions

WildHoney is available for new commissions and thrives on the opportunity to collaborate with communities, events and festivals. We develop works that can be either themed or tailored to local history and myths. We specialise in outdoor performances and like to use the unique features of the landscape as our performance area.

Pre Existing Productions

Phoenix Rising, Birth of Light and The Illuminates full performances with live musicians are also available for bookings and can be adapted to suit your specific event.

Audio and Live Sound

WildHoney designs musical scores specific to each production. The soundtracks can be pre-recorded or with live musicians. We provide a PA and sound technician.

Stage Lighting

WildHoney requires stage lighting for large scale productions. The lighting design needs to compliment costumes and props designed with inbuilt lights. WildHoney has worked with, and can recommend, a lighting designer and technician, however, additional costs will apply. Lighting specs available.

Travel

WildHoney is available to travel Productions intra/interstate and internationally.

Artist in Residence

WildHoney is available for Artist-in-Residence programs.

Production Lengths

WildHoney Productions range from 30-45 minutes. The lengths of the works are adaptable depending on the event.

Cost

WildHoney's production packages are variable and dependent on factors such as number of performers, travel, accommodation, and per diems. Please contact us for a full price list or quote.

Insurance

WildHoney has Public Liability Insurance.
